

MERAKI

Meraki, the English Theatre Society of Maharaja Agrasen College, works on exploring the dimensions of theatre in English language. Established in 2017, Meraki has evinced itself as a prominent one in the Delhi University Circuit within a course of three years. Meraki embraces the artist within you and binds your soul with art. Even though the society is just three years old, it is an indispensable organ of MAC-ECA. In the very first year of its establishment, Meraki upheld the Delhi University scene with a flurry of awards, including the best play and the best actor for its first ever production and has continued that legacy ever since. Meraki envisages the case that the best on stage can only be achieved when the team encompasses a spirit of unity and trust and every member has touched his/her best aptitude. Thus, Meraki's primary intent is team building along with the attainment of its members' artistic potential. Meraki intends to take successful steps in the upcoming years too.

